Inspiration

Affectionately known as the “Plant Doctor,” George Washington Carver’s faith was a key component in his inventions. As a science enthusiast, he once asked God to tell him the secrets of the universe, but instead, God pointed him to something much smaller — the peanut.

The secrets Carver discovered led to the invention of hundreds of new discoveries including — peanut butter, cosmetics, paint, oil, marble, plywood and even the dye used in Crayola Crayons. All of his inventions Carver humbly attributes to the Creator having often said, “The Lord has guided me,” and “without my Savior, I am nothing.”

Call to Prayer

Leader: God has called us to ministry amid suffering and death.

People: We are excited that the Lord would tap even us on the shoulder.

Leader: The exhilaration mounts as our minds and personalities intertwine with the lives of people who are hurting.

Prayer of Invocation

O Lord, our motivation deepens as we begin to see handles for proclaiming the good news of God's presence and God's healing power. We need support; we need healing; we need to dip into the springs of eternal life to be refreshed. Absorb, O Lord, our weariness and our own sorrow into your ever-present and graceful Spirit. Fill us with life anew. We are nothing without you, Lord. Come back into our lives in strength. Renew the Spirit within us. Give us bread for the wilderness. For you are our salvation. You are our Living God. Amen.
